

ANIME SCRIPT ADAPTATION AGREEMENT

By submitting your manga or game for script adaptation, you acknowledge and agree to the following terms set by CrimsonCelest Studios ("Studio"). These Terms are intended to ensure a fair, transparent, and collaborative process between the Studio and the Creator.

1. Scope

- This Agreement covers the adaptation of the Creator's manga/game into an anime script only. It does not include animation, production, or full screenplay rights at this stage.

2. No Financial Obligation

- The Creator is not required to provide any initial budget or financial contribution. Compensation will be earned through profit sharing as detailed in the "Profit Sharing" section. The Studio will cover all costs related to the anime creation.

3. Copyright & Ownership

- The Creator retains full ownership of the original manga/game. The Studio is granted the right only to create a script adaptation.

4. Profit Sharing

- The Studio will provide the Creator with a mutually agreed-upon percentage of profits derived solely from the purchase of the story rights and copyright licensing. This arrangement does not include revenue from anime production, streaming, merchandise, or other sources unrelated to the story rights or copyright licensing, unless explicitly agreed in writing. The exact percentage and terms of payment will be agreed upon in the final signed agreement. Both parties agree that this clause represents the full scope of profit sharing for the story rights and copyright licensing.

5. Creative Collaboration

- The Creator will be credited as the original author. The Creator is encouraged to provide input during the script adaptation to help maintain the story's originality, tone, and vision.

6. Trailer and Popularity Evaluation

- Before full anime production, the Studio will create a short trailer based on the adapted script:
 - The Creator will be consulted and can approve the trailer concept.
 - The decision to continue with full adaptation or production will depend on the trailer's reception and popularity.
 - If the trailer is well-received, both parties will discuss next steps for the project in good faith.

7. Good Faith & Partnership

- Both the Studio and the Creator agree to communicate openly and collaborate in a spirit of fairness, creativity, and mutual respect throughout the adaptation process.
